A teacher in a grey tank top and black leggings is leading a group of children in a music and physical education class. The children are wearing white t-shirts and are using drumsticks to play a drum. The room is decorated with colorful murals, including one of a horse and another of a cityscape. A sign on the wall reads "SPLODGE CITY". The teacher is holding a drumstick high in the air, and the children are following her lead. The room is filled with energy and movement.

OUR MISSION

We're On A Mission

To get young people moving, making an active lifestyle the new normal through music, movement and having loads of fun.

The Problem We Solve

We combat inactive children and engage hard to reach learners! We stand for equal opportunities for all ages and genders, increasing participation rate and daily active minutes, making P.E super fun, spreading happiness and a sense of wellbeing.

Our Unique Solution

Drumba blends music and fitness into an effortless educational, cross curricular resource.

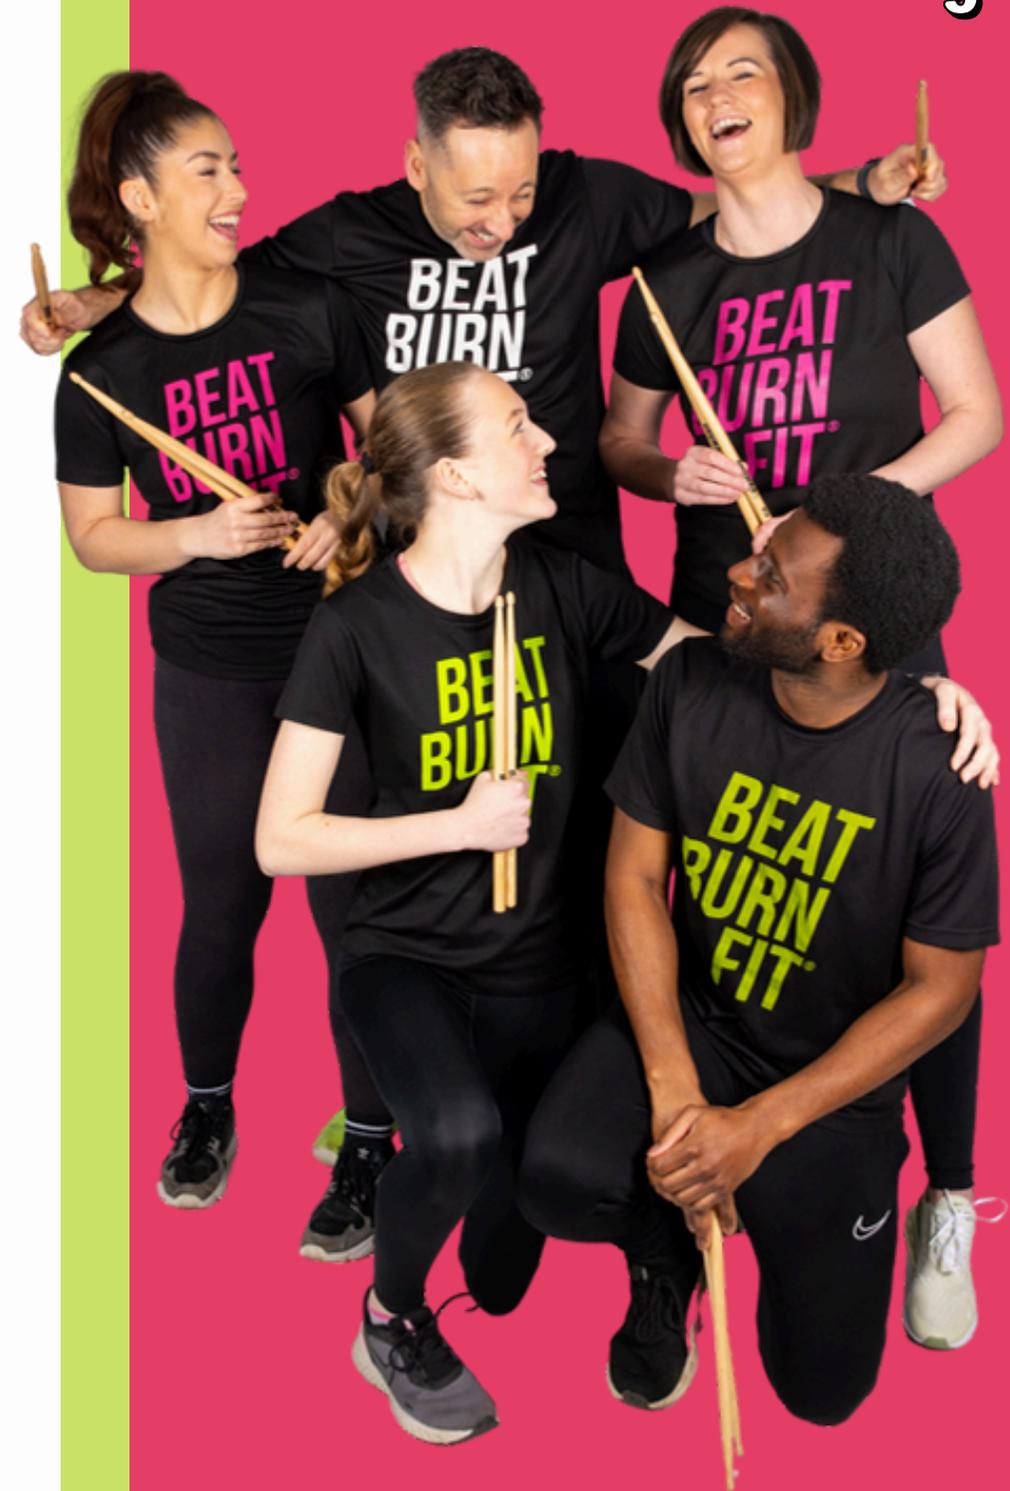

OUR STORY

Drumba was never planned it was discovered. Back in 2010, drum teacher and fitness enthusiast Adam Rockley was leading a school drumming session when a 7-year-old pupil broke the mould—jumping, moving, and drumming all at once. Instead of stopping him, Adam saw potential. What if rhythm, movement and drumming came together?

Adam encouraged the child, and soon the whole class followed. Within minutes, the room was alive, laughing, sweating, and drumming. A lucky mistake perhaps? Several months later this led to Drumba® being born, a high-energy fusion of music, movement, and fitness.

We've now visited over 700 + schools nationwide, and over 250,000 children have experienced Drumba to date. More than 100 schools have invested in our equipment and training packages, empowering educators to bring Drumba to life in their schools and we're just getting started. Drumba is more than music. More than fitness, it's a new way to move, learn, and grow!
